Abstract

Noise or outliers corrupt image non-contact measurement of a geometric structure or geometric entity. A weight image is created prior to fitting whose pixel value indicates certainty of image information or feature signal strength. Learning images can enhance the weight image or it can be adjusted by iteration to achieve robust fitting results.